

Next steps in question-writing

Ingrid Murray,
Isaac Physics Teacher Support Manager

Our focus in this course:

- Introducing you to the basic principles
- Giving you a range of practical perspectives from experienced question writers
- Showcasing the range of genres of question-writing and the underlying rationale
- Getting you going! You can refine and review once you have something on paper
- Giving you feedback on your writing
- Showing you how to review your work and how you can progress
- Information and training are helpful, but you need to do to learn and grow as a question-writer!

Further training:

- An indication of what's out there: we do not endorse or recommend any particular programme
- <https://www.cambridgeassessment.org.uk/events/apw-question-writing-for-effective-assessment/> - starts 4 June, fee, online
- <https://www.teamedforlearning.com/how-to-become-an-item-writer/>
- <https://www-forms.aqa.org.uk/join-us/senior-associate-vacancies>
- <https://www.jcq.org.uk/becoming-an-examiner/> - has links to all the exam board recruitment pages

Our advice is: keep writing questions and responding to feedback!

Thank you for attending the course!

- Please fill out our evaluation form so we can continue to improve and offer free CPD.
